Rocklands Celebrates the Season with the Big Pig Jig
(Sausage and Harvest Celebration Extravaganza)

One Big Pig Shows Its Best on October 18

WASHINGTON, DC (October 9, 2012) – This year, Rocklands went to the Frederick County Fair in September. Tonio and Melvin found Garrett Murphy’s 279-pound pig to be irresistible. They bought the prize-winning pig and started to think “sausage.”

The pig inspired Big Pig Jig Sausage and Harvest Celebration Extravaganza, a celebration of the harvest and local farming. Rocklands is having special-recipe sausage prepared from the entire pig, to be served only on Thursday, October 18 at all Rocklands restaurants.

“Just like last year’s Big Pig celebration, we’re making sausages that use the whole pig – all the good cuts are in there, the tenderloin, loin and ham, so this will be a really delicious, high-quality sausage,” said John Snedden, owner of Rocklands. He added: “We’ve always had a fall celebration featuring 4H prize-winning pigs from one of the amazing county fairs nearby. We believe in and support local farming – even at the grade-school level!”

Each Rocklands location will be serving Big Pig Jig Sausage on a bun; once again, customers can dress up their sausage at a Schlop Bar of fixings. Snedden added, “Even in a 279-pound pig, there are only so many sausages – don’t wait too long to get yours.”

The one-day only special is $6.99 for a half-pound Big Pig Jig sausage and fixings on a bun, and $9.99 for the sandwich plus two sides.
